Professor Goldwin Smith publishes another attack on Gladstone's home-rule scheme.

LONDON, 25th May., Some members of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers stationed at Aldershot attended a Conservative meeting to-day, at which some of the orators savagely denounced home rule and described the Irish people as being unfit for self-government. The Fueiliers became enraged at the speakers and attacked them and their supporters. The police were called in to protect the speakers, and a fight ensued between them and the Irish soldiers. Comrades of the Fusiliers went to their assistance, and the police were badly whipped and driven away. They secured re-enforcements, and returning suppressed the rioting and arrestd five of the soldiers.

Mr. Gladstone went to Windsor to-day in obe dience to a summons from the Queen. He conveyed to her the opinion of himself and colleagues with reference to the Home Rule bill, and proposed the dissolution of Parliament. The Queen intimated that she was willing to meet the wishes of the Ministers.

The Liberal Unionists, in spite of their new and untried committee, are sanguine of success in the coming elections. Baron Rothschild has sent them £500, and it is believed that they have received several larger sums. They are widely circulating anti-home rule literature.

LONDON, 27th May. A number of Liberal dissidents who did not care to risk compromising themselves by attending the meeting hail with undisguised satisfaction the attitude of apparent conciliation adopted by the Premier. They now openly proclaim their intention to return to their party at once and vote with the Government for second reading. Among the first to announce their return have been John Fletcher Moulton, Radi-Liberal member for Bedford. Both were adherents of Hartington before to-day's meeting. and both have since announced themselves supporters of Gladstone. The Whitbread accession is, perhaps, the most influential that the Premier could have desired. He is the gentleman referred to as a "wise connsellor" by Gladstone in his great speech introducing the Home Rule bill on the 8th of April, and by reason of his high character and sound judgment he has long been a conspicuous leader of the Liberal party. Besides the shove named, a number of other dissidents have openly pronounced themselves as satisfied with Gladstone's present attitude and the concession he has promised to make, and dereading.

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addresses need do is to note on the cover. Sent to .____, or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end.

LOCAL DELIVERY .- No delivery is attempted on board Ship, at the Peak, Kowloon, Aberdeen, &c.; nor at any private house (even though named in the address) when there is a place of business nearer, at which delivery can be effected,
